

AMBASSADOR LIFTS CUSTOMER CHOICE FURTHER WITH TOP QUALITY OMG WAREHOUSE RANGE

Ambassador Lift Trucks who recently publicised its proud appointment as UK importer of global company Komatsu Forklift is now delighted to announce its range of OMG Warehouse Equipment.

A long established and well respected company, OMG are reported as one of the fastest growing independent warehouse manufacturers in Europe priding itself on the production of the highest quality machines.

The addition of OMG Warehouse Equipment to their product list means Ambassador can now provide all areas of the industry with arguably one of the UK's best materials handling range available to cover all warehouse needs from small power pallet movers to 16 tonne Komatsu Forklifts.

“OMG machines operate by general standard European controllers, making them easy to operate and simple to maintain” explains Ambassador’s National Sales Manager Chris Bunn. “OMG have a great reputation for flexibility with their products and can also offer a modification and bespoke service which is a great option within our business and for our Dealers.”

The extensive product range includes pallet trucks, pallet stackers, reach trucks, order picking trucks, Industrial cleaning as well as other specialist equipment, cementing Ambassador’s place as a UK leader in forklift truck supply. “We have appointed several new UK dealers in recent months,” explains Chris. “The industry is really picking up and companies are looking to invest in great quality and reliable equipment. With the addition of OMG to our portfolio we are confident that we can meet any requirements for materials handling solutions.”
